

Engagement with Local Productivity Councils

1. National Productivity Council of India (NPC), was established in the year 1958 and registered as a Society under Societies Registration Act, 1860. It is an autonomous body under DPIIT, Ministry of Commerce and Industry, Government of India.
2. To undertake its mandate for 'Productivity Promotion in the Country', NPC works closely with various industry associations, academic institutions and entities such as the Local Productivity Councils (LPCs), which are non-government bodies established in various States.
3. The LPCs are independent legal entities registered under the Societies Registration Act, 1860 and have their own Governing Bodies/Councils.
4. NPC has no administrative control over the LPC.
5. NPC engages with LPCs from time to time to fulfill the mandate of productivity improvement across various sectors of the economy.
